Supplementary Figure 3: Representation of one of the 48 sub-divisions of the DNAchip. The positional controls are framed in red whereas the negative controls of A. thaliana are in green. The grid was applied properly on the image and these positions were checked for all subdivisions prior to the quantification of the scan.